REFLECTIONS

Six years have passed since The Victoria Falls Hotel first opened its doors in 1904, coinciding with the arrival of the line of rail heading north to Cairo.

The hotel has developed from its original state as a simple building of wood and corrugated iron into a more sopisticated construction with the modern conveniences of electricity, fans, sanitation and hot and cold running water.

Under the management of Monsieur Pierre Gavuzzi and his exotic members of staff: a French chef; an American barman; and Arab waiters, the flow of tourists is bound to increase. However, the hotel is still far from having the adequate capacity to meet the demand for accomodation. This was experienced last year when, during the first regatta held on the Zambezi, only a hundred of the thousand or so visitors who converged on the Falls for the event were accommodated

Mr.D. Tressillian Lewis of Feirs arrived last Saturday on his way to urg.

"Then I chanced to read of some cures by bile bears, the grant family medicine, and thought I would try them myself. I obtained some and ed a course. The first signs of my recovery were that the bleeding ceased; and the pains in my joints were not so severe.
