At 11.00 a.m. all over the country, the flag will be raised simultaneously at the nearest district headquarters. Remember, it is your Flag. Be there, and pray for peace. The future is in your hands.

That is what the people want.

Be there - it is your future - it is in your hands!

The flag is waiting like a child in the womb. The flag is the child of hope. May it fly free in a wind that is fresh with the promise of peace. May it dance with the children. May it stand through the storms that face our country.

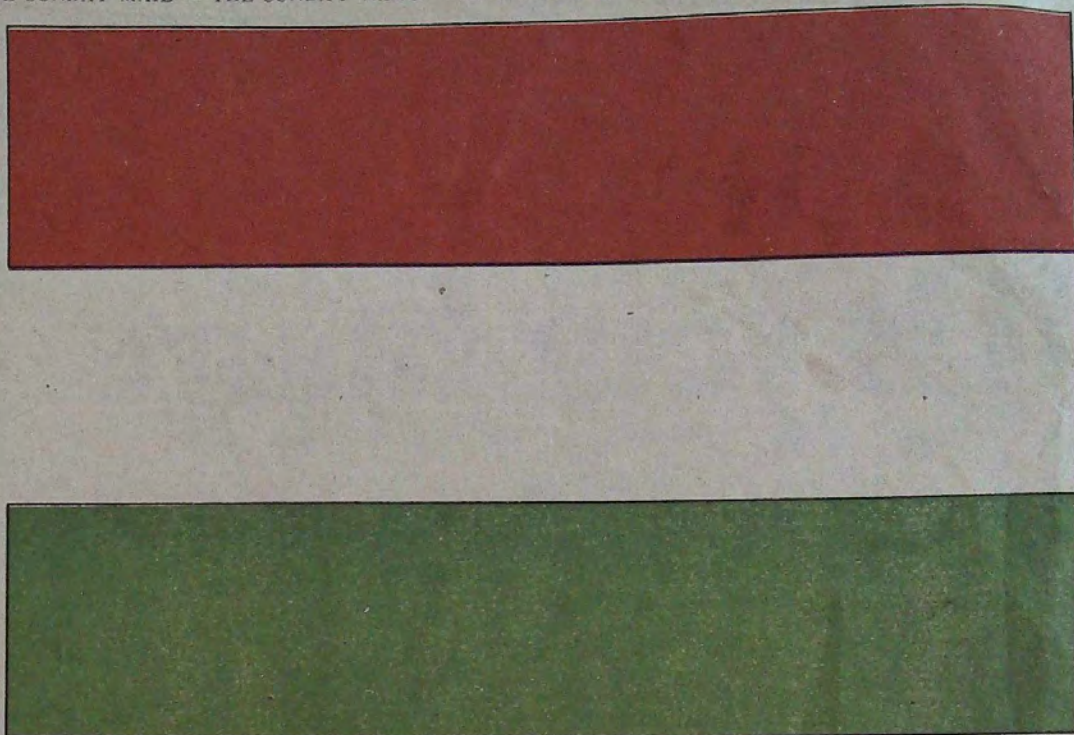

We pray for the end of unnecessary killing. We pray for people of our land to be united under its auspices; for the flag symbolizes a national identity of Zimbabwe and its people of all races and beliefs. We pray that the world might come back to sanity, and see that the people of this land want peace.

We also pray that our need and want for peace will be born at this time of trouble, and will be nurtured by all who care and all who live and work together in our land.

Finally, we pray for the pride that helps men to forget toil and toll, and to stand proudly united under one flag.

That is what the people want.
